COOLSCULPTING

CoolSculpting, also known as Cold Lipolysis, is a method of aesthetic medicine that freezes and breaks up fat tissue. The CoolSculpting application creates effective results in a short time. Its effectiveness has been approved by the US Federal Food and Drug Administration (FDA). It works on the basis of exposing the tissue to -6°C temperatures for 1 hour while suctioning the tissue with the help of a probe and vacuum. After the CoolSculpting application, the nutrition networks of the fat tissues are disrupted and they are eliminated from the body through the lymphatic system.

LYMPHATIC DRAINAGE

The use of lymphatic drainage systems in weight loss and cellulite treatments increases the effectiveness of these treatments. In cellulite and weight problems, blood and lymph circulation slows down; edema and metabolic wastes accumulate in our body.
